

*If you are working in resource science,
management or utilization-
If you have seen fire, drought and bark beetles ravage our forests-
If you are concerned about how to make forest restoration feasible-*

Then we urge you to attend this important local workshop presented by the USDA Forest Health Protection Team. Roll up your sleeves and dig in as we explore what we know about our forests and what we can collectively and individually do to enhance the health of forested landscapes across Southern California.

September 12

SCIENCE AND STEWARDSHIP

9:00 am to 4:00 pm

A holistic look at forest health, ecological restoration, sustainability, and biomass markets.

RECEPTION AND EXPO

4:00 pm to 7:00 pm

A technical look at state-of-the-art equipment and techniques for resource use in science, management, and operations. Forests and partners are encouraged to display success stories, showcase projects, and lessons learned.

September 13

FOREST HEALTH STRATEGIES

9:00 am to 5:30 pm

Southern California Province Forests and our cooperators develop strategies to respond to forest health threats "without boundaries." Includes a business look at priorities and potential funding for FY07 Forest Health project work.

September 14

GPS FOR RESOURCE PROFESSIONALS

9:00 am to 1:00 pm

You can't miss the unique opportunity to learn more about Global Navigation Satellite Systems. Allen Instruments and ESRI are joining forces to present and demonstrate instrumentation and software of GPS-based navigation and positioning systems designed to meet the needs of resource managers in Southern California.
